

Reading Together Unites Families

Being away from family isn't easy, especially for the children at home – but separation is a routine part of military life. United Through Reading offers service members the opportunity to be video-recorded reading books to children at home from more than 200 locations around the world. The experience of reading aloud together eases the stress of separation, encourages literacy, and bridges the distance for families until service members return home.

UNITED
THROUGH READING®

United Through Reading proudly serves more than 100,000 beneficiaries annually. Since its inception, nearly 2 million military parents, spouses, and children have benefited from the program.

Because of United Through Reading:

85% of participants report a decrease in their children's anxiety about the deployment;

88% of participants report an increase in connectedness with deployed service members;

90% of participants report that participation reduced their own stress during deployment; and

80% of participants report increases in their child's interest in reading and books.

Your Giving Unites Families!

Help us continue in our mission of service to military families.
